

NYMC SCHOOL OF HEALTH SCIENCES & PRACTICE (SHSP)

SHSP offers doctoral degrees in physical therapy as well as in public health, on-campus and online master's degrees in accredited programs—public health, biostatistics and speech-language pathology—as well as several advanced certificates in highly practical fields. SHSP's Master of Public Health (M.P.H.) is the only accredited online program in the New York Metropolitan area. SHSP's experienced faculty and rigorous curricula provide exceptional career training in these high-demand professions. Faculty who are active in research and practice in all areas of medicine and health care engage our students in the challenge of analyzing interventions and improving outcomes across the spectrum of quality health care. Our graduates are equipped to focus on the health care needs of individuals, communities or populations, and prepared to hit the ground running in high-impact careers.
